

This Week At Orwell | Friday 13th October 2023

Gardening Competition 2023 | Winners Announced

This week we have been announcing the winners of all categories in the Orwell Gardening Competition 2023 on our social media channels and results week closed with a special video judging with Claire from our Customer Engagement team and our special guest judge Michael Perry (AKA Mr Plant Geek). If you missed the announcements, you can find out who won what by checking out the video. Click here to watch the video >>

The Spill Festival | Ipswich

The world-renowned 'Spill Festival' happens every two years, bringing internationally significant and ground-breaking artists' work to Ipswich and the UK.

This year's festival kicks off in Ipswich today with a host of events and experiences which run until the 21st October. Click here for more info >>

Suffolk Libraries | Author Events

Suffolk Libraries kick off their series of Author events from 16th October where you can enjoy talks with local authors and best-selling novelists. The events are being held all over the region so follow the link to find events near you. Click here for more info >>