

This Week At Orwell | Friday 20th October 2023

Recycle week | Suffolk County Council

To celebrate Recycle Week, Suffolk Council are giving two Suffolk residents the chance to win £100 of East of England co-op vouchers.

To win, any resident can share a photo of them recycling one of the missed capture items into their recycling bin at home, which could be aerosols, takeaway trays, food tins, plastic shampoo bottles, and plastic cleaning bottles.

They can enter the competition via Instagram or Facebook and all the details are on their website. The closing date for entry is Monday 30 October at 9am. Click here for info >>

Boiler and Extractor checks

In light of the recent cold and wet weather, we would like to remind customers to check their boilers and extractors (if not already done so) to ensure that they are functioning correctly before they are used more regularly.

Should you experience any issues or would like some assistance around how to make those checks, please contact our Customer Services Team in the usual ways. Get in touch >>

Orwell receives platinum accreditation | Best Employers Eastern Region

We are delighted to share that Orwell have received a platinum accreditation at the Best Employers Eastern Region Awards 2023.

This recognition shows Orwell's commitment to providing an exceptional workplace for our colleagues, and this accolade reflects our tireless efforts to create an atmosphere where colleagues can thrive, develop, and be their authentic selves.

Well done to everyone at #teamorwell who played a part in our submission.
