Looking out for vulnerable customers

As we approach the winter months, this period can be challenging for those vulnerable members of our community. So if you know someone vulnerable in your local Orwell community, why not offer them a friendly visit or call. Especially in those periods of particularly cold or wet weather where mobility or access to the community may be limited. If you know of anyone in your Orwell community who may need some help, please do get in touch with our customer service team via the Orwell App or give us a call.
